Dallas/Fort Worth Area

Jeffrey G. Matthews is the Partner in Charge of Weaver's Forensic and Litigation Practice. He has significant experience in financial investigations, forensic accounting, and litigation support. Mr. Matthews' clients include the nation's top law firms, Fortune 100 legal departments, and government investigative agencies. He has calculated damages resulting from breach of contract, breach of fiduciary duty, diminution of value, and misappropriation of trade secrets. Mr. Matthews has also testified in multiple civil and criminal accounting fraud matters at state and Federal levels.

Mr. Matthews was instrumental in developing proprietary anti-fraud and compliance tools for two of the five largest accounting firms in the world. As such, he has served as a consulting expert in developing and implementing numerous risk management programs for companies in various industries.

Further, Mr. Matthews developed and currently teaches the University of Texas at Arlington's Forensic Accounting and Fraud Investigations Class for the MBA program. Mr. Matthews is also the executive creator and producer of "The Forensic Forum", a web-based CPE/CLE production that airs quarterly across the globe. The Forum has featured current and former SEC Enforcement Directors, attorneys and luminaries from many industries. He also currently serves as the Past-President of the Dallas Chapter of Certified Fraud Examiners.
