The Songer Institute brings together nationally known scientists and educators in providing exceptional educational and training opportunities for law enforcement, medical examiners, coroners, attorneys, and other groups interested in the forensic sciences.

Our programs foster research collaboration with universities, colleges and law enforcement agencies.

The Songer Institute is dedicated to furthering the fields of Criminal Justice, Forensic Science, Emergency Management, Homeland Security and Strategic Intelligence, by channeling the training and development of students and practitioners through a continuous improvement model of delivery and content.

Songer Institutes' staff of expert consultants and instructors provide the world's best guidance and training for businesses, individuals and educational institutions of all types, sizes and nationalities. We fulfill two critical roles in today's high-risk international environment: consulting and education. Our Consulting Division provides up-to-the-minute guidance for individuals and businesses in the areas of Forensics, Homeland Security, and Strategic Intelligence. Meanwhile, our Education Division trains domestic and international students in basic and advanced forensics as well as other customized training formats
