RingCentral Glip

With the increased flow of applications to the cloud, juggling projects is becoming more complicated. Luckily, help is at hand with RingCentral Glip. Glip is the cornerstone of the RingCentral Office platform, bringing all your communications and collaboration tools together in one intuitive application.

Message groups and individuals in real time, manage your calendar and tasks, host online meetings, and store and share files, all within Glip. Enjoy the simplicity of connecting and working together seamlessly, whether you're in the office, out of the office, or anywhere in between.
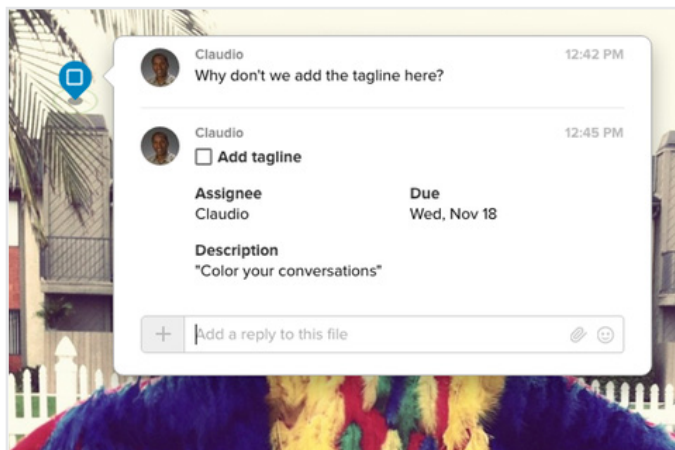

Features and benefits

- Manage projects in one interface with group chat, video conferencing, calendar scheduling, and more.
- RingCentral Glip works on your computer and mobile devices, so you can collaborate with coworkers and clients everywhere you go.
- RingCentral Glip serves as a knowledge base for files in Box, Dropbox™, Zendesk®, and hundreds of other applications.
- Host video and audio conferences in just a few clicks.
- Make annotations on images, and cut down on email tag and rounds of changes.
- Share files with automatic version control, and complete projects with more efficiency.

RingCentral®
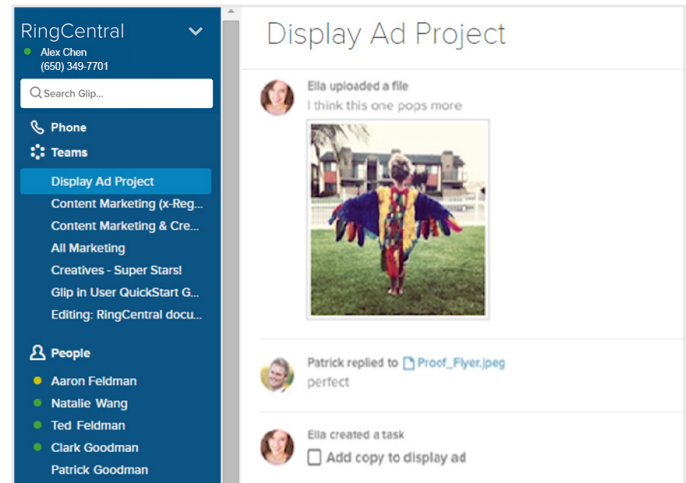

Consolidate and collaborate

Get out of your email fog.

Collaborate with your team in real time with messaging and integrated task management. Then add the power and reach of RingCentral communications to watch productivity take off and email clutter go away.

Easily share files with team members.

Working on joint documents has never been easier. RingCentral enables you to edit and comment on a shared document offline— or to work on it together via RingCentral Meetings™. With RingCentral Glip, you work the way that works for you.

Eliminate stand-alone task management tools.

Work is about getting things done. RingCentral Glip adds another dimension to teamwork by making it more efficient with integrated task and project management. With everything in the same place, you'll stay on the same page. And, together with RingCentral Office®, you'll be able to connect with team members via voice, SMS, MMS, and messaging.

Integrate the applications you use most.

We know you use lots of tools. That's why we make all of your tools work together right from the start. By integrating the applications your team uses most—including JIRA®, Zendesk, Box, and Evernote®—collaboration and communication become more powerful.

Contact RingCentral Partner Support: partners@ringcentral.com or 800.595.8110.

KID-9020 06/17